

Upon reading over the matter one draws the conclusion that the levy or tax of health and safety on the railways lines in 2006 .

Does not seem to be viable. Surely British rail up until 2006 had a health and safety policy in place.

Miss Carol Blundall